

Three Valleys Landcare at the Putty Valley Spring Fair

30 September is a very special spring fair for Putty. It's our centenary year and (despite the drought) it's a time to celebrate the nation's greatest little valley.

TVLG will be a proud part of the fair this year.

We'd love to see you, so please drop in.

We'll have a selection of native plants on sale and a range of information sheets.

Throughout the day, a range of knowledgeable presenters will offer helpful advice on Putty's soil, plants and water. Alex King will take you on a fascinating journey into the world of native rainforest species, with practical advice on finding, selecting and growing those plants that will enhance your property and help to preserve it during the fire season.

Representatives of the Hunter Region Landcare Network will be on hand to answer questions on conservation and species diversity. If you're not a member and you'd like to join up, why not join at the fair
